

Registered Accessibility Specialists

The laws relating to the Texas Architectural Barriers Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act are both complex and dynamic. Brian Stanton Associates, LLC has extensive experience with design consultations on new construction projects, existing facility compliance surveys, and plan review & inspection services for compliance with the Texas Accessibility Standards.

Accessibility Code Counseling Services

- Assist architects, engineers and designers in identifying areas of nonconformance
- Offer design solutions to correct these issues
- Assure compliance during construction
- Register project with Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation
- Submit construction documents to Registered Accessibility Specialist for plan review

Existing Facility Compliance Surveys and Reports

- Perform compliance surveys on existing facilities to identify areas of noncompliance
- Provide comprehensive, detailed reports with findings, recommendations, budget projections and photographs
- Assist with compliance strategy
- Prepare construction documents and specifications for making modifications

Plan Review and Inspection Services

- Services available to architects, engineers, designers and building owners
- Hundreds of projects across the state reviewed and inspected since 1997

What Our Clients Say about Our Performance

"There is no substitute for professionalism."

"Our firm used to rely on sources in Dallas for our TAS reviews and inspections, but we were never satisfied. We got conflicts from the state and then spent more time getting issues resolved. Now we use Brian Stanton, and he's the only person we'll use ... even though he's in another city. He is more professional than anyone we've ever worked with ... and there's no substitute for professionalism. The service is fast, too. Brian can turn around a preliminary review in a week or less. He would do it overnight if we asked. Quite simply, he makes us look good in front of our clients."
